Ol PICK: No. 15 Quincy Street-

MONDAY; AUGUST 18, 1873.

The Question to be Voted on Te-morrow.

Within the past few days there has election to morrow on the additional sub-scription to the Pittsburgh, Wheeling & (From the West Yirginian.) Kentucky Railroad. A good deal of comment was occasioned Saturday by the publication of a statement in the Register that there was between $16,000 and $17,that had rendered the additional subscription by this county necessary. This gence: O. M. Shinn, Esq.: statement is partly true and partly mistaken. It is true, as we learn from one of the directors, that there is about the sum your paper and the Wheeling INTELLImentioned of unpaid private subscriptions; but it is not true that their collection would have rendered, or would yet trender, the subscription unnecessary. These unpaid subscriptions are relied upon and counted as each. They are so put down in Mr. Becken's estimates; and counting these it was found there was still a lack of over $22,000 to Ruish the work, according to the closest estimates that could be made, and to cover contingencies $30,000 was asked for, $15,000 of which has been voted and subscribed by Brooke, while the other $15,000 is asked to the county.

The state of the case in regard to these days and a two many still and the county of the closest estimates that could be made, and to cover contingencies $30,000 was asked for, $15,000 of which has been voted and subscribed by Brooke, while the other $15,000 is asked to the class of the case in regard to these The state of the case in regard to these uncollected Brooks county private sub-scriptions we understand to be about this.

The failroad project as first proposed was for a road to Wellsburg only; and $20,-000 private stock was subscribed for that purpose. But the Pan Handle Road do-clined to this hold of the enterprise except for a road to Wheeling. This shape it inally took, as our readers know. The about to be uncovered. All were any purpose.) But the Pan Handle Road deinal scheme were turned over to the Cominal scheme were turned over to the Company organized to conduct the extended project; and here is where the hitch comes in with these private stockholders. Preting; he (McMasters) had told witness to was the author, and wanted witness to add him with locals to run the paper. The indirect firing at me in the paper. The indirect firing at me in the paper was note than rive riving could bear. I Ky. Company for subscriptions made to the company when proposing a road only to Wellsburg. Suit has been brought sgainst the principal of these subscribers and if the courts decide against them, the others will pay without further question. The Company and their advisers have no doubt at all that these private subscribers are bound, and will proceed to collect their subscriptions just as fast as the courts will enable them to do so. enable them to do so.

We may add here,-and we do it upon the assurance of Hon. C. D. HUBBARD, one of the Ohio county directors—that the company, feel the utmost confidence in the assurances of the engineers that this additional subscription will enable them to complete the road bed and to present it, free of debt, according to the contract with the P. C. & St. Louis Company, ready for track and equipment. In justice to the management of the P. ought not to lorget that they have had to encounter many difficulties for which they are in no wise answerable. They were delayed several weeks in commencing work by the unreadiness of the P. C. & St. L. Company to close the contract. They found the contract of the contract of the contract of the contract. at times impossible to procure as many laborers as were needed. The winter came on them unusually early, held on very late and was remarkably unfavoratively late and was remarkably late and was remarka ble all the way through. What with the terrible winter and the epizootic, but little progress was made between November and April though every effort was made to push on the work. Thirty or forty thousand dollars were expended in this winter campaign with the best intentions; and with a constant hope for more favorable weather, without having made progress at all adequate to the expenditure. If the character of the winter and the ep izootic could have been foreseen, we presume operations would have been wholly suspended and money would have been eaved; but ordinarily a good deal of railad work can be de in the winter nearly as well as at other seasons. If the ation ever introduced. No Curs, no Pay, work as a whole has not progressed as declaration work as a whole has not progressed as declaration ever introduced. No Curs, no Pay, McCahe, KRAFT & CO., Proprietors, Wheeling, W. Va. work as a whole has not progressed as expeditiously as we were led to expect it would, it is yet to be shown that the delays, and the costs beyond the original estimates (estimates which the chief engineer himself now confesses were too low,) were such as could reasonably have been avoided, or that they are due to any culpable fault on the part of those entrust ed with the management of the work. On the other hand, the high character of the gentlemen composing the directory —their capability as business men, and their integrity in any capacity-ought to afford some assurance to our people that they have been doing the very best they could to forward the work and promote the interests of this county. But there are those who choose to regard the conduct of this work with suspicion. We presume even they are not unfriendly to the work itself. Their very dissatisfaction must be taken as evidence of their
